This is a machine-generated confirmation email to let you know that your search request has been sent to EIC TC3600.

Searches are processed in the order in which they are received. Upon receiving your request, a searcher will contact you to discuss your search. You will be notified again when your search is completed. At that time, you may pick up your search in the EIC. If you prefer, the search will be delivered directly to your office. Deliveries are made twice a day, once in the midmorning and again in the afternoon.

If you have any immediate questions you can contact us at 571-272-3488.

Thank you very much for using the EIC. The text of your request is below.

Search Topic Information:

I am looking for software that lets a user enter in current sound-related parameters and a desired performance level. The software looks up potential solutions stored in a database to then recommend the best sound control solution(s) to achieve the desired performance level. This recommendation system is in the area of sound control/noise abatement/auralization/noise or sound or parametric room rendering (these are some synonyms I've been using). Some of the sound-related parameters are sound path/sound propagation/ray tracing; maximum acceptable noise/sound/decibel level within a room. I can find references that talk about how these parameters should be considered when optimizing sound control; however, I cannot find software that recommends solutions (from an available library of solutions) in light of the existing noise parameters and desired performance level. I came across a decent product called SoundPLAN; however, the EIC could not track down a manual with a date prior to November 13, 2000 and web.archive.org gives me a bad date when I try to print out the frames of www.soundplan.com.
